We have completed our assessment of issues impacting Services by e-OSCAR this morning. This note will outline each of the issues and the remediation steps taken to remedy those issues.

1. Certain v1 endpoints were incorrectly removed from our schema during Friday afternoon's release. Specifically, we removed the ACDVRESPONSE/v1/validate and ACDVRESPONSE/v1/submit endpoints in error.
2. There was a change in the configuration settings whereby the JWT Token validation was enabled for Auth endpoints in error
3. Certain v2 endpoints were removed from our schema in error.

We have made configuration updates to correct each of the three issues noted above, and those updates are flowing through our infrastructure and should be available within the next 15 minutes.

Our team will be reviewing and updating all associated JIRA tickets that have been opened today. If you continue to experience issues associated with these Services, please leverage our support portal to update or add additional tickets.
